General Information

A Purpose

Use Form 590-P to obtain an exemption from withholding on distributions of a partnership's or LLC's prior year income made to domestic (nonforeign) nonresident partners or members. If the income represented by this distribution has been reported on the partner's or member's California tax return as income from California sources, the partner or member should file Form 590-P with the partnership or LLC. The partnership or LLC will be relieved of the withholding requirements for this partner's or member's share of this distribution if they relied in good faith on a completed and signed Form 590-P.

Do not use Form 590-P if you are a:

- Foreign (non-U.S.) partner or member. There is no provision under R&TC Section 18666 to allow an exemption from withholding for a foreign partner or member; or
- Partner or member that is a resident of California or a partner or member that has a permanent place of business in California. You should use Form 590, Withholding Exemption Certificate.

B Law

R&TC Section 18662 and related regulations require withholding of income or franchise tax by partnerships and LLCs when distributions of money or property that represent California source income are made to partners or members that are domestic nonresidents of California.

Distributions subject to withholding include, but are not limited to, distributions that represent current year income or prior year income that should have been, but was not previously reported as income from California sources on the partner's or member's California tax return. However, no withholding is required if distributions of California source income to the partner or member are $1,500 or less during the calendar year. For more information on partnership and LLC withholding, get FTB Pub. 1017, Nonresident Withholding – Partnership Guidelines.
